Complex Litigation

Transportation, Trucking & Logistics

Nicholas Beck is an associate of the firm's complex litigation practice team, where he focuses on transportation defense, premises liability, and other litigation defense matters. Nicholas' background in biochemistry and molecular biology with a concentration in pre-medicine enables him to analyze the complex medical issues in his cases through a unique lens.

Prior to joining Moran Reeves Conn, Nicholas worked at a mid-size law firm practicing in personal injury on both the plaintiff's and defense sides. Nicholas' previous experience also includes an externship with the 23rd Judicial Circuit Court of Virginia and an externship in the Office of the Attorney General of Virginia.

At the University of Richmond School of Law, Nicholas served as the President and Oral Arguments Chair of the Moot Court Board and as the Vice President for the Federalist Society's student chapter.

In his free time, Nicholas enjoys spending time with his Bernedoodle, trying out new restaurants, and going on hikes.
