COMMERCIAL LITIGATION

When disputes arise in the business world, they can jeopardize the stability, reputation and profitability of your company.

We understand the complex challenges that businesses face when navigating legal conflicts, and we bring our best to the fight. Our team includes seasoned, award-winning commercial litigators who are ranked by The Best Lawyers in America as “Tier 1” in the Metro Richmond area — lawyers who are comfortable in any forum, anywhere.

Our experience encompasses a wide range of commercial disputes, including breach of contract, UCC and sales litigation, business torts, construction matters, trade secret litigation, unfair competition, real estate disputes, financial institution litigation, intracompany disputes, insurance claims and coverage, and director and officer liability.

We approach each dispute on its own terms. If your goal is to resolve the matter early, we will work with you to reach that goal quickly and efficiently. We will explore arbitration or other alternative dispute options to reach a solution that protects both your interests and your bottom line. But if litigation is inevitable, we will develop and implement a winning strategy through all stages of the dispute – from initial investigation to document collection and retention, pleadings, discovery, expert witnesses and trial. If an appeal follows, our commercial litigators have the experience to win at that level too, whether in a state or federal appeals court.
